The Owosso Bowling league tournament was concluded Wednesday night with the running off of the last of the singles. George M. Dewey with a total of 513 pins and a handicap of 60 for the three games, nosed out J. C. Osburn, and J. A. Byerly, with a total of 489 and a handicap of 45, beat out J. Edwin Ellis, scratch man, with a total of 533, by one pin for third. Ellis is fourth and C. E. Rigley, fifth, with one pin less than Ellis.

Dewey gets a prize of $4, Osburn $3, Byerly $2 and Ellis $1. Hume and Eddy, scratch men, won first prize of $6 in the doubles. George and Charles Sackrider took second prize of $4 and Lampkin and Wren third prize of $2.

In the five-man team match, Hume's team of scratch men, composed of C. Sackrider, Ellis, Murray, Eddy and Hume, won first prize of $15. L. C. Osburn, A. L. Nichols, H. Parker, L. C. Hall and L. Parker took second prize of $10, and Wren, Osburn, Tompkins, G. Sackrider and C. Bentley won third prize of $5.

The tournament was a great success, the large majority of the members of the league participating in all of the contests. Wednesday night George Eddy rolled 234 in a game independent of the tournament, which likely will win for him the $5 in gold awarded as a prize for the highest individual score at the alleys during the week.

What's Your Resolution?

That swishing sound echoing throughout this fair and happy land is the dusting of the New Year's resolution. Here's what we purpose doing: Save money—perhaps. Stop smoking—maybe. Quit swearing—we hope so. Become so good that—not so we can notice it.

What is your resolution for the new year?—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Indelible Marking.

There are many occasions upon which it is necessary to mark linen or wearing apparel indelibly with one's name and address, yet the ink sold for this purpose is not always convenient to use or attractive in appearance.

A very good substitute is the ordinary blueprint powder, sold by any photographic dealer, a thick solution being made and used just as would the ordinary ink. Instead of fixing this by the use of a hot iron, it is made permanent simply by washing in several changes of cold water; when thoroughly fixed the writing will appear in a very pretty shade of blue. Should you prefer, a rubber stamp may be used instead of the pen; in this case a little glycerine should be mixed with the solution which should be spread upon a clean cloth or blotter—this is then used as an inking pad for the stamp.

Aside from its convenience, marking with blueprint solution has the advantage that traces of the writing, or any stains caused by it, may be removed, if desired, by the application of a solution of tannin.—The American Boy.

BINNACLE JIM AND THE CAPTAIN'S NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS.

1. "Speakin' o' swearin' off brings me back to Capt'n Soakum an' the good ship 'Dancin' Sally.' You see we ended our voyage on New Year's Day, an' owin' to th' shameful treatment o' th' skipper, Bill an' me had decided t' skoot. But wot do you 'spose that same old capt'n done but invite us into th' cabin—his own cabin, mind you—an' show us a resolution he'd writ up."

2. "Bill an' me 'us so upset an' taken aback 'at we didn't stand th' ghost o' a show, besides th' skipper 'us a powerful man when riled up an' th' way he misused us an' hauled us about th' deck 'us sompin' shameful an' terrific."

3. "You'd a thought same as me an' Bill that them presents 'ud a touched his heart, but some men 'at go to sea haven't got any, an' 'us bein' a short spell over due made matters worse when th' skipper fixed his glass on us an' see th' packages, I never see a man get so vexed."

4. "Bill an' me both tried t' remind him o' his resolution, but thar warn't no chance to get a word in edge-ways with the capt'n, an' we felt actually relieved when he kicked us into th' hold an' clapped down th' hatch."

5. "In all my experience, boy an' man, afore th' most, I don't recollect any harsher treatment on shipboard than wot we got in them same three months, an' as Bill says, an' so do I: never take no stock in these New Year's resolves, an' you can lay to that, my lad."
